

SEANKELLY

Behringer, David. "The 9 Most Intriguing Objects from Frieze New York." Design Milk. May 19, 2020.

The 9 Most Intriguing Objects from Frieze New York

05.19.20 ||| Posted by David Behringer ||| Art Main

Frieze New York is an incredible annual art fair that is accessed by a scenic ferry up the East River. Rather than cancel this month, organizers converted the entire experience to a fully digital format. With over 200 virtual viewing rooms and thousands of boundary-pushing artworks, we clicked through every page to find our favorite material-pushing objects.

Anish Kapoor, Untitled, 2005. Sean Kelly Gallery

SEANKELLY

Anish Kapoor, Untitled, 2005. Sean Kelly Gallery

Anish Kapoor's "Untitled" is a 3-foot-wide section of pink Alabaster that contains a perfectly spherical void, playing with light, shadow, and translucency. Kapoor is famous for his mirrored tourist-magnet "Cloud Gate" in Chicago, that, like this carved work, considers the balance between a "perfect" form and the atmosphere around it. Presented at Frieze New York by Sean Kelly Gallery.